ALLIED BOMBERS INFILTRATE MAJOR DAMAGE UPON VITAL GERMAN INSTALLATIONS IN ITALIAN AREA

Nazi Gun Positions, Troop Concentrations and Transport Lines Both in Battle Area and North of Rome Are Hit — Railroad Targets and Tunnel Bombed.

By International News Service

NAPLES, May 17—Allied bombers, in addition to supporting Fifth and Eighth army ground forces in Italy, were credited today with inflicting "major damage" upon vital German installations in northwestern Italian targets.

While Allied light bombers, "in some numbers" attacked Nazi gun positions, troop concentrations and transport lines both in the battle area and north of Rome, medium bombers hammered the port of Piombino and the Voltri shipyards. Railroad targets and a tunnel in central Italy also were bombed by the raiders.

Night flying bombers, in addition to hitting Piombino, also struck at San Stefano on the western coast of Italy. In all the Mediterranean Air Force flew some 1,800 sorties, losing eight planes as against three Nazi craft destroyed.

Investigate Crash of Blimp and Death of Ten

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 17—(INS)—Officials today investigated the crash of a U. S. Navy training airship in which 10 men died, the first such fatal accident at the Lakehurst naval training station since the German dirigible Hindenburg exploded there in 1937, killing 37.

Six officers and four enlisted men were killed instantly when the navy craft, a blimp, making routine practice take-offs and landings, struck the upper ledge of a large hangar late yesterday. The envelope rippled, dropping the gondola, which plunged 25 feet to the ground.

An 11th member of the crew escaped with his life, but was in a critical condition today at the station hospital.

The blimp was of the patrol training type, 250 feet long and carrying 41,000 cubic feet of helium.

The Navy announced that the names of the crewmen will not be made public until the next of kin have been notified.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

Argus smiled when he read of the "good authority" from whom the reporter had received his information. He wondered why the young and eager Jones of the air-conditioning company had not gone further and mentioned the machine itself. Perhaps he had not been able to think of a logical connection. Well, that at least was something to be thankful for.

"Want anything, boss?" Butch asked from the doorway. "Bring the kitchen table in here, will you?"

"Kitchen table? Oh, sure. Sure!" Butch shook his head.

Argus got out his tool chest, containing a fine set, which he bought in Germany before the days of ersatz. He placed a piece of newspaper on the floor. Then he produced a small acetylene-welding blow torch and lighted it. While it was heating up, he unscrewed the top of the air conditioning unit. Then he plugged the machine into a wall socket and snapped on the switch.

He consulted the flashlight photo of the gun mount which he had taken in Syria's apartment. Butch brought in the kitchen table.

Argus fastened a small steel vise on the edge of the table. He commenced to fashion two metal clamps—one to fit the revolver handle and the other to fit snugly around the barrel. Time and time again he was required to move the clamps and experimentally connected them again with the wire leading from the base-plug to the self-starter of the air-conditioning device.

Again and again Argus shifted the wiring. He was perspiring and he removed his coat. Once he got a shock. Then he donned a pair of rubber gloves and proceeded with greater caution. He found a way to make it work based on the ringing of the telephone bell, but he was not content with that. Desperately, he sought the combination that would cause the air-conditioner to start when the receiver was lifted.

He took down from his bookshelf several reference works on electrical installations and studied the wiring patterns. He was sitting cross-legged on the floor when he heard the front doorbell ring.

He heard Butch's voice as he opened the door and then a man as he said: "Where d'ya want him put, miss?"

And then Ellen's reply: "Bring him in here."

Two men appeared in the doorway carrying a third man between them. "Just put him on the couch," Ellen ordered. She turned to Argus. "Look what I found."

"Bill Carstairs!" exclaimed Argus. "I found him in a bar."

The two men deposited young Carstairs on the couch. His face was unshaven, suit mussed and a strong odor of alcohol...

"And just what, my Fair One, were you doing in a bar in the middle of the afternoon?" Argus asked.

"One thing at a time," said Ellen. "Tip these men, I haven't anything smaller than a ten."

He paid off the two men and they left.

"Now," asserted Ellen, peeling off her gloves, "to reply to your first question: I was about to pose for a picture in the Granada Bar. When I came in, I saw Bill, and a bartender trying to throw him out, in a gentle way."

"Anyways," observed Argus, "would have been all right."

"I told the barkeep he'd be responsible for him if he'd let him stay until we'd finished working."

"That still doesn't explain why you brought him here."

"I'm coming to that. I felt sorry for him and—"

KNOW YOUR STATE

Pennsylvania was one of the first states in the Union in the development of its natural gas resources.

The first iron pipe line for natural gas was built in Pennsylvania in 1872 at Titusville and in 1883 natural gas was piped into Pittsburgh and Washington, Pennsylvania, as a domestic and industrial fuel.

Despite the later discovery of large reserves in California, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, and West Virginia, Pennsylvania still ranks high in the commercial value of its natural gas production. Both the glass and the steel industry in the west of the State still make large use of this fuel which is available from wells in almost all of Pennsylvania's counties west of the Alleghenies. In 1939 discoveries made in Tioga County led to the development of a new gas field and today Pennsylvania leads all other states in the number of producing wells, though its total output is below that of the great gas fields of the West.

Discoveries made in the field of organic chemistry within the past ten years have largely increased the importance of natural gas as a source for synthetic products and promise important commercial developments at the close of the war.

Through various chemical and physical processes it is possible to produce from our natural gas supplies such products as: methanol or wood alcohol, which is an important source of other chemical compounds; carbon tetrachloride and Samuel J. Haefer.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey, Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church)

O Lord, our God, help us in the correct use of our lives and abilities. Give us a vision of complete consecration. Thou hast given unto us all the abilities which we possess. Thou hast given us hands with which to work, lives with which to witness and lips with which to speak. May these abilities be completely consecrated to Thee, so that the use of one may not nullify the testimony of the other. May our speech coincide with our lives and our lives with our spirits as we associate with our fellow men and accept the opportunity of striving for the advancement of Thy Kingdom. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Will you help their calls get through this evening?

Evening is about the only time most service men have to call. Then there is a rush on Long Distance lines from camps, naval stations and air bases.

You can help by leaving the lines from seven to ten for the service men.

BADENHAUSEN TEAM DEFEATS ALUMINUM NINE; SCORE, 10 TO 5; ALCOA TEAM MAKES SIX ERRORS

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 17.—Taking advantage of loose playing by the visitors, the Badenhausen team topped the Aluminum Company nine, of Burlington, 10-5, last evening in the opening game of the Bristol Suburban League played on the Bensalem Township high school field.

The Alcoa team was guilty of six errors and these mixed with hits gave the Baddies their margin of victory. Three of the hits made by the winners were extra base blows.

Paul Dean did the twirling for the iron workers and after the second inning settled down to a comfortable victory. The Burlington lads had a 5-3 lead going into the last half of the fourth but a pair of errors and two walks plus "Jake" Prant's triple put Badenhausen ahead a lead which never was relinquished.

Manager Forrest Eberle, of the Jersey team, used two hurlers, Bowen started and gave way to Foster in the third. The latter was the losing moundsman. Leading the Alcoa boys with the stick were Wood and Tolson who had a pair of bungles each.

"Bill" Whyte had two singles in three trips to the plate for the winners while Stan Vandegrift had a busy evening running the bases as he scored three runs.

The Voltz-Diamond game, played on the Maple Beach field, was called at the end of the fourth inning with Voltz-Texaco leading, 1-0. Hal Shackleton was on the mound for Voltz with Joe Sagolla doing the pitching for the Diamond team.

PRISON OFFICERS TO PLAY R. & H. NINE HERE

The Rohm & Haas nine will return to its home field tonight to play the Trenton Prison Officers. Game will begin at 6:15 o'clock.

The chemical mixers are faring well on the Maple Beach diamond but are having difficulty while traveling. All the games lost this season has been on games away from home.

When traveling the chemical boys cannot field the same group that are able to be present on the home games with the result that Manager Ken Munroe has to shift his players about to fill the gap of the players who are missing.

"Eddie" Sullivan will toe the slab against the Scullymen with Jesse Vanzant behind the plate. Fred Scully's boys are leading the Trenton Industrial circuit and have a fine chance of increasing the lead if they can bowl over the Maple Beach aggregation.

CARLISLE — (INS) — Capt. Sydney R. Gordon of Westerly, R. I., and Roxbury, Mass., spent 17 months in the South Pacific, mostly on Guadalcanal, before returning to the Medical Field Service School at the Carlisle Barracks. He underwent approximately 300 air raids while on Guadalcanal, he related.

MARYSVILLE — (INS) — Mrs. Emma Lehman Frickman, of Marysville, died in a Harrisburg hospital two hours before the funeral of her husband.

ROHM & HAAS
GIRLS WIN OPENER

The Rohm & Haas girls played their initial game in the Softball League last evening on the club-house grounds and handed the Manhattan girls a 23-8 lacing.

The chemical workers had little trouble in the tilt as they registered seven tallies in the first and added four more in the second to take an 11-0 lead. The soap-workers scored a quartet of markers to cut into the lead in the third, but the Maple Beachers came back in the fourth with ten runs to call it an evening.

Rita McHugh did the pitching for the winning team and held the Manhattan in check throughout. Leading the winners with the bat were Stella Klemczak and Betty Bachefer, who had four hits each. Juliano and Ritter made two hits each to lead the losers.

BRISTOL HIGH IX QUILTS N. J. GAME DUE TO UMPIRE

Local Boys Refuse To Continue Game in Eighth Inning

SCORE STOOD AT 3-2

Two Members of Mt. Holly Faculty Acted As Arbitrators

MT. HOLLY, May 17.—Disgusted with the decisions of the umpire, the Bristol High School team refused to continue its ball game with the Mt. Holly High School nine yesterday afternoon. As far as Bristol was concerned, the game was over in the eighth, at which time Mt. Holly was leading, 3 to 2.

The trouble in the tilt really started when the association umpires assigned to the game failed to put in an appearance and two members of the Mt. Holly faculty were decided upon to arbitrate the game.

The Bristol players claim they took a raw deal from the start as the first two runs made by the Mt. Holly team were a gift from the umpire when he called what appeared to be a foul ball by a foot fair. Later a Bristol player was called out when "time" should have been called.

Coach Rosser protested on several occasions and the umpire retaliated by threatening to clean up the Bristol bench. But in the eighth with the score tied at 2-2, Goodman, Parker and Bennett got sixes for Mt. Holly. On the latter's hit, Goodman attempted to score. Stevenson's throw to the plate was near-perfect and Johnson had the ball waiting for the runner three feet away from the plate, but the umpire called Goodman safe, claiming Johnson did not touch the runner.

After much arguing the umpire stuck to his decision so Bristol refused to go on with the game.

"Toby" Oriola was pitching a wonderful game for the Bunnies and had held the Jersey boys to five hits. Bristol had seven hits, with Leo Johnson getting two doubles and a single.

CARLISLE — (INS) — Capt. Sydney R. Gordon of Westerly, R. I., and Roxbury, Mass., spent 17 months in the South Pacific, mostly on Guadalcanal, before returning to the Medical Field Service School at the Carlisle Barracks. He underwent approximately 300 air raids while on Guadalcanal, he related.

MARYSVILLE — (INS) — Mrs.

Emma Lehman Frickman, of Marysville, died in a Harrisburg hospital two hours before the funeral of her husband.

Good Garden Planning means More For Canning!

It's a good idea to start a Victory Garden . . . but plan before you plant. Grow those things that you most prefer . . . plant enough to supply your table with plenty of fresh vegetables and still have a tidy surplus for canning, too!

And right now is the time to plan for your canning. Round up all the usable jars you can find.

Be sure each is in perfect condition, has the proper type, air-tight lid . . . then as your crops ripen, you'll be all set to can those home-grown vegetables for next winter's eating.

250 Taxpayers Ask Change In Method of Tax Collection

lector Robinson's attorney was not signed by any members of Doylestown Borough Council, but did bear the name of the Burgess, many members of both major political parties, all the Court House row officers living in Doylestown, a former tax collector, political leaders members of the school board and a large number of women.

The petition sets forth that under the newly proposed system the taxpayers of Doylestown will be benefitted because the community will then be regulated by the uniform borough laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Opponents to the latest move of Tax Collector Robinson—although no opposing petitions have been circulated as yet—say that it would cost the taxpayers of Doylestown Borough about $1200 additional a year to have Tax Collector Robinson collect the Borough tax too.

Records show that very few other towns in the Commonwealth have borough tax collected by the Borough Treasurer, but that practically all operated under the latest General Borough Act of May 4, 1927.

ALLIED BOMBERS INFILTRATE MAJOR DAMAGE UPON VITAL GERMAN INSTALLATIONS IN ITALIAN AREA

Nazi Gun Positions, Troop Concentrations and Transport Lines Both in Battle Area and North of Rome Are Hit — Railroad Targets and Tunnel Bombed.

By International News Service

NAPLES, May 17—Allied bombers, in addition to supporting Fifth and Eighth army ground forces in Italy, were credited today with inflicting "major damage" upon vital German installations in northwest Italian targets.

While Allied light bombers, "in some numbers" attacked Nazi gun positions, troop concentrations and transport lines both in the battle area and north of Rome, medium bombers hammered the port of Piombino and the Voltri shipyards. Railroad targets and a tunnel in central Italy also were bombed by the raiders.

Night flying bombers, in addition to hitting Piombino, also struck at San Stefano on the western coast of Italy. In all the Mediterranean Air Force flew some 1,800 sorties, losing eight planes as against three Nazi craft destroyed.

Investigate Crash of Blimp and Death of Ten

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 17—(INS)—Officials today investigated the crash of a U. S. Navy training airship in which 10 men died, the first such fatal accident at the Lakehurst naval training station since the German dirigible Hindenburg exploded there in 1937, killing 35.

Six officers and four enlisted men were killed instantly when the navy craft, a blimp, making routine practice take-offs and landings, struck the upper ledge of a large hangar late yesterday. The envelope ripped, dropping the gondola, which plunged 258 feet to the ground.

An 11th member of the crew escaped with his life, but was in a critical condition today at the station hospital.

The blimp was of the patrol training type, 250 feet long and carrying 416,000 cubic feet of helium.

The Navy announced that the names of the crewmen will not be made public until the next of kin have been notified.

ALARMISTS

Whenever the viewers-with-alarm run out of something else to worry about they return to the question of what will happen "when the boys come home."

They envision all sorts of dire happenings when the millions of young Americans get out of uniform and again take up the business of civilian life. Trained in violence, they warn, holding human life cheaply, these veterans of World War II might cause trouble if anything on the home front did not go to suit them.

Such conclusions are far-fetched. Regardless of how terrible his war experience has been the American young man is first and last an American. As such he has as a background generations of training and education which is the portion of every citizen of a free land. As a boy he may have been a bit wild. Eliminate every man in this country today who was a bit of a devil in his younger days, and the remains would be a nation of fuddy-duddies.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, himself trained in violence in a previous war, gives it as his opinion that the return of these fast thinking and skillful men of jeep, tank, plane and PT boat is going to be the greatest shot in the arm this complacent country has ever had.

In spite of their early contact with death and violence there is every indication of a revival in the hearts of American soldiers of a longing for the finer things in life which should be theirs as a reward for their valor and sacrifice.

MOVING THE WHEAT

About this time of year American railroads start preparations for moving the nation's wheat crop. The job this year will be tremendous. Based on April 1 forecasts, the yield will total 600,000,000 bushels, 72,000,000 bushels more than the record crop of 1943. With wheat supplying the largest single crop, 647,665 railroad cars were required to move the grains produced in the nation last year, an all-time record.

As a start toward preparing for the wheat harvest, Washington has ordered 18,000 box cars moved from eastern and southern railroads and concentrated in grain-producing regions by July 1. These will supplement thousands of cars already on western railroads. All cars owned by western lines and now in use on foreign roads are to be sent home immediately, empty if necessary.

Harvest starts in Texas and moves gradually northward through Oklahoma, Kansas and on to the Canadian border. It will be tough going for railroads this year, but they are awaiting the annual grain shipments with confidence born of long experience and believe the bumper crop will be moved without major difficulties.

United States Treasury reports more money in circulation than ever before. But "stabilizer" Vinson still talks about higher taxes as if they were the foe of inflation.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey, Pastor)

Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Lord, our God, help us in the correct use of our lives and abilities. Give us a vision of complete consecration. Thou hast given unto us all the abilities which we possess. Thou hast given us hands with which to work, lives with which to witness and lips with which to speak. May these abilities be completely consecrated to Thee, so that the use of one may not nullify the testimony of the other. May our speech coincide with our lives and our lives with our spirits as we associate with our fellow men and accept the opportunity of striving for the advancement of Thy Kingdom. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Will you help their calls get through this evening?

Evening is about the only time most service men have to call. Then there is a rush on Long Distance lines from camps, naval stations and air bases.

You can help by leaving the lines from seven to ten for the service men.

GRAND THEATRE

Presenting an unusual cross-section of America today and of the men and women who are making the materials of war to back up our fighting men. "Gangway for Tomorrow" features a cast headed by Margo, John Carradine and Robert Ryan at the Grand today.

A group of share-the-riders is the nucleus about which the plot is developed. Each of the five passengers whom Jim Benson picks up each morning and drives to the defense plant has a dramatic story in the background—and each in turn reveals that story to the audience, although not to the other passengers.

Theater, something to see, hear and get excited about. The colorful lumberjack—the man who risks his life daily to supply the timber for America's vital war industries—is the gent who receives a cinematic salute in "Timber Queen," which opens today at the Bristol Theatre.

RITZ THEATRE

In "Deerslayer," which is scheduled to open today at the Ritz Theatre, Bruce Kellogg plays the title role, with Jean Parker playing opposite him. CHI-CHES-TERS work wonders for me!"

Instead of feeling miserable on my "difficult days," now I take the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. The new Chi-Ches-Ters have a special ingredient which is intended to relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by relaxing the affected part, not merely by deadening pain. It's a grand preparation for simple periodic distress. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added iron tablet—which acts as a tonic for the blood. Another which is really satisfying. Next month, be sure to try the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size, and follow directions carefully.

Summer Is The Time

By Dr. W. H. Smith

Whoever your Doctor is I'm sure he'll agree that Summer is the best time to restore health. When I say Summer I have in mind not just the astronomical period limited from about June 21st to September 21st; but the entire period of generally good weather which exists now and should continue until mid-Fall.

During this time Nature is working right with us. There are more beneficial rays in the sunlight which reaches us, and there is more of that sunlight, on an average, per day. The outdoor warmth makes it possible for us to have a free supply of fresh air, even when we are indoors. Vegetables, freshly picked from nearby sources, become much more plentiful to enrich our diet with minerals and vitamins in their best form.

The natural function of perspiring is accelerated, relieving our bodies of toxic waste and this in turn inclines us to the healthful practice of drinking more water.

Now, while all these helpful forces are working in our favor, is the time of choice to have all scientific measures used to remove or alleviate causes of disease.

Particularly all persons with kidney trouble or any form of rheumatic condition or neuritis would do well to have every possible phase of diagnosis investigated and every helpful agency of treatment applied to themselves.

Also, anyone who suffered a lot of inconvenience and "below par" feeling during the past Winter and early Spring from any of the variety of "cold" conditions or chronic lack of proper elimination should try all scientific means of improving resistance, assimilation and elimination now so they may reasonably hope to be more efficient and more comfortable next Winter, or sooner.

Thorough application of all known measures of prevention and health-building now and during the coming Summer should result in doctors being less over-worked this coming Winter.
